

Innovation Center for Thermal Process Testing

Optimize Your Thermal Process with Expert Testing

When uncertainties arise in your thermal process, partner with Despatch's test facilities to ensure you're specifying the right equipment.

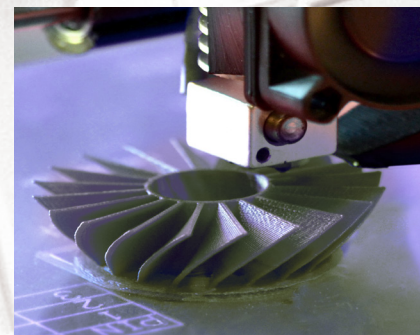

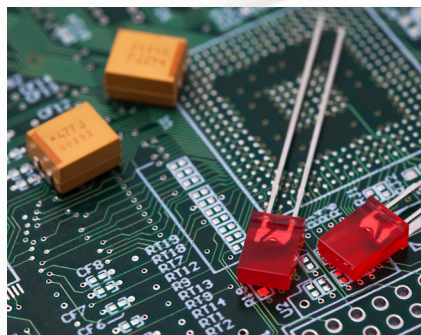

Our testing services can:

- Confirm the required temperature profile
- Identify where an inert environment is necessary
- Optimize product orientation within the oven
- Compare continuous vs. batch processes
- Provide insights into factors that impact your process and equipment selection

What the Despatch Innovation Center Offers:

- Testing tailored to your specific application
- Available before or alongside an equipment order
- One or more days of testing with a formal report documenting results
- Scheduling typically within 2 - 4 weeks ARO
- Detailed requirements submitted via Despatch questionnaire.
- Customer attendance encouraged for optimal outcomes.

Many Fortune 100 companies have leveraged the Despatch Innovation Center for testing before purchasing equipment and you can too. For immediate assistance, contact a Despatch engineer or product specialist at sales@despatch.com.
